

thirsty|NYC

June 19, 2014

2014 Guide to Summer Rooftop Drinking in NYC

There are so many great places in New York City to drink and if you are not heading out of town in the summer, that means rooftop drinking! We have rounded up some of our favorite rooftops in New York City to grab a drink, including after work spots in Midtown, trendy al fresco places for an upscale night on the town and casual spots to grab some drinks with friends.

SPYGLASS ROOFTOP

One of favorite new rooftops this summer comes to us from hospitality pros at the David Burke Group. Spyglass is located on the 22nd floor of the Archer Hotel and the decor is inspired by old school New York elegance fused with a little James Bond. The cocktails by Joe Goglia are all incredible, especially the Mez-jito with mezcal and Raspberry Caipirinha which are perfect summertime sippers. The space is small and they encourage a more upscale, well-dressed crowd. Although Spyglass is swanky, the hospitality experience is incredible with a well-trained, friendly staff. This is a great date spot to enjoy a few well crafted drinks and delectable nibbles with an up-close and personal view of the Empire State Building.

47 West 38th Street
New York, NY 10018
212.719.4100

PRICES: $$$$
Subway: 7, 7X, B, D, F, M, N, Q, R
MIDTOWN

HOURS:

Mon-Wed 4:30pm to 1am | Thu-Fri 4:30pm to 2am | Sat 3pm-2am | Sun 3pm-1am