

NEW YORK

November 26, 2014

HOLIDAYS

Booze With Views

Take in the beauty of winter in the city at one of these new year-round rooftop bars.

Spyglass

Archer Hotel; 47 W. 38th St., 22nd fl., nr. Sixth Ave.; 212-730-0538

We are a city of voyeurs, and this bar on the 22nd floor of the Archer Hotel incorporates our hobby into its design, which is inspired by Jimmy Stewart's telescope in Rear Window.

Above-average snacks like ratatouille and goat cheese parfait, smoked salmon flatbread, and avocado panna cotta come from

David Burke's restaurant on the first floor and invite you to linger as you sip an Autumn Shade II (bourbon, Grand Marnier, pumpkin, maple syrup, $16) or an Empire State (Hendrick's Gin, St. Germain, basil, ginger, $15) while peering into the windows of the actual building. It's a perfect place to meet friends pre-theater, which is its own kind of New York voyeurism.

(Photo: Courtesy of Spyglass)