10 Top Places to Pop the Question in Northeast US

Not everyone wants to propose marriage on a beach at sunset, at a restaurant over dessert, or via a made-for-Youtube extravaganza. Here are ideas from Virginia to Maine (yes, I know -- Virginia is not the Northeast, but I include it due to proximity to Baltimore and DC) for adventurers, art and architecture lovers -- and other lovers of all sorts. For information on what to do before or after the Big Ask, consult the Getaway Mavens here.

1. For the iconic New York romantic, ask for her/his hand while toasting unobstructed views of the Empire State Building at Spyglass Rooftop Bar. Atop the Archer Hotel here's nothing quite like it in the area, and yes, you can reserve a room for your own private needs (say, if you want to get down on one knee without an audience). On 38th between 5th and 6th.
