Drinking on rooftop bars in NYC is one of the best parts of the weather warming up and staying in the city during the Summer. It is time to shed your winter coats and get to the nearest rooftop bar and get a cocktail with a Manhattan Skyline backdrop thanks to our handy list of our favorite rooftop bars.

SPYGLASS ROOFTOP AT THE ARCHER HOTEL

One of favorite new rooftops this summer comes to us from hospitality pros at the David Burke Group. Spyglass is located on the 22nd floor of the Archer Hotel and the decor is inspired by old school New York elegance fused with a little James Bond. The cocktails by Joe Goglia are all incredible, especially the Mez-jito with mezcal and Raspberry Caipirinha which are perfect summertime sippers. The space is small and they encourage a more upscale, well-dressed crowd. Although Spyglass is swanky, the hospitality experience is incredible with a well-trained, friendly staff. This is a great date spot to enjoy a few well crafted drinks and delectable nibbles with an up-close and personal view of the Empire State Building.
